

Producer
Candidate Briefing Document

Dear Applicant,

I am delighted that you have expressed an interest in applying for the role and joining our organisation. This is a really exciting time for soundLINCS.

Over the past 23 years soundLINCS has been on an amazing journey, unleashing potential through music. We have worked with, and been a part of the lives of many different people from all backgrounds. Recent projects have included work with Older Adults, vulnerable young people, Health and Wellbeing and Heritage sites. We have introduced an amazing array of musical toolkits, undertaken and published academic research alongside the projects, partnerships, activity and awards that have kept us energised and refreshed.

In these challenging times, soundLINCS knows there has never been a time where the importance of Community Music is needed more. We are looking to continue supporting, developing increased empowerment and innovation in community music locally, nationally and internationally and continuing to build on our excellent reputation within the music sector.

This post is responsible for taking full control of a series of allocated projects, programmes or services ensuring the delivery is on time, to budget, and of the highest quality of performance, within the most effective and efficient model.

The successful candidate will have a solid experience of programme and project management, including responsibility for budgets, performance, directing and managing people and effective stakeholder management. A creative thinker and planner with an analytical approach to problem solving alongside knowledge of agile/lean tools. This role also seeks to develop opportunities of work, continuing to build soundLINCS' reputation as one of the foremost community music organisations.

The job description and person specification contain all the information regarding the role and the criteria that the selection panel will use in the shortlisting process for this post, so please specifically address these within your application.

This document provides all the information you need, however if you require any additional information please do not hesitate to contact Shelley Spink, my Executive Assistant on 01522 510073.

Yours faithfully,

Nikki-Kate Heyes, MBE CEO

Who are we?

soundLINCS is a not-for-profit community music organisation unleashing potential through music by delivering high-quality and innovative music making opportunities. soundLINCS began in 1998, set up by community musician and CEO Nikki-Kate Heyes MBE.

soundLINCS is a Company Limited by Guarantee and a Registered Charity and receives annual revenue funding from a number of sources including Arts Council England and Youth Music. The Company attracts project funding from a range of sources, dependent on the projects and programmes under development, working on a consortium basis with a wide range of organisations including Lincolnshire County Council, the District Councils in Lincolnshire, Arts Council England and Youth Music.

soundLINCS is managed by a voluntary Board of Trustees currently comprising 6 dedicated volunteers who ensure a strategic overview of the Company. Through regular meetings, they monitor the work of the Company ensuring high standards are kept; assist in the achievement of goals and objectives from their understanding of the Company's stakeholders via their diverse connections and demographics. They bring a wealth of professional, business, advisory and specialist knowledge to the Company, complementing core staff skills to ensure the most effective quality service can be delivered. The day to day operations and project delivery is undertaken by the CEO, Executive Assistant and a range of 20 freelance Facilitators who have been inducted (including adherence to the Company's policies and procedures), trained and safeguarded by the Company.

What do we do?

We think music can change your world. We offer music-making opportunities for people from all walks of life. Our services are inclusive, exciting and are delivered by creative, innovative people.

- We create and innovate bespoke music projects and workshops for a diverse range of people to suit their needs.
- We develop and provide access to a range of music information.
- We deliver training to encourage and empower others to provide high-quality music-making opportunities.
- We work with academics to study the social impact of music so we can learn, develop and share with others the empowering qualities of music-making.

Why do we do it?

Our vision is that everyone has an opportunity to be empowered through music.

We provide music workshops and residencies in most music and multi-arts genres. You name it, we can usually deliver it!

Over the years soundLINCS has built a national reputation as one of the foremost community music organisations in the UK. Since its inception, soundLINCS has made a major contribution to the transformation of the community music landscape. The Company works in partnership with local, regional, national and international organisations, providing and developing high quality innovative music-making opportunities and training for all ages, abilities, interests and communities. The Company has developed a reputation for work with Higher Educational Institutes, resulting in the creation of well-informed and practical resources which are a core part of soundLINCS work to realise the Company's vision of a musically inclusive world, which unleashes potential through music.
